EBERT CALLS PEACE TREATY "MONSTROUS," SAYS WILSON HAS DESERTED HIS FOURTEEN POINTS

OTHER UNIONS LINE UP BEHIND EMPLOYEES OF OVERLAND FACTORIES

TOLEDO, O., May 12.—With members of other unions lining up solidly behind the employees of the Willys-Overland and Electric Auto-Lite Companies, Vice President C. A. Earl, Mayor Schreiber and the wage committee appointed last week, this morning resumed conferences which seek to end the labor trouble during which the two plants are closed.

Members of fourteen transportation unions, including the four train service brotherhoods, have threatened to refuse to handle freight for 73 manufacturers who have expressed sympathy with the employers and it is announced that unions may withdraw funds estimated at $2,500,000 from 16 banks whose managements have endorsed the closing of the plants.

Unions today were continuing agitation for the starting of a co-operative store to assist the workers and to negotiate against the merchants who have sided with the employers.

Six thousand men identified with the Toledo Liberty loan organization will meet tonight with Mayor Schreiber to discuss his request that they not act as special police to preserve order during the labor crisis.

There was no disorder today following the demonstration yesterday when several thousand workers, led by former service men in uniform, took part in a parade and open air meeting in front of the police station.

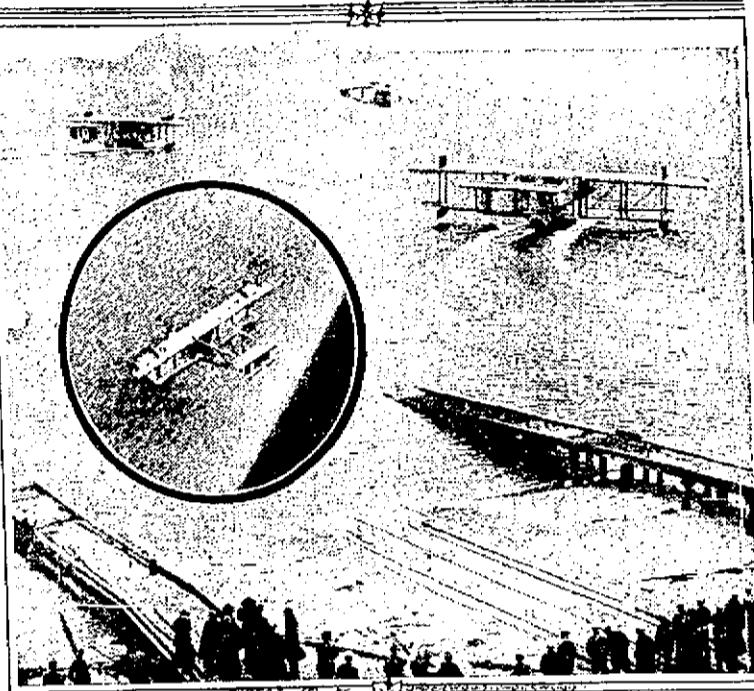

Toledo citizens in sessions yesterday condemned Bolsheviks as contrary to principles of Americanism, but praised the integrity of labor unions.

It was reported this morning that 400 of the 500 striking employees of the Ford Plate Glass Company, in Wood county, would return to work during the day on the terms prevailing before the strike, which occurred when the company refused eight hours a day instead of twelve.

The conference with Vice President Earl was adjourned at noon without an agreement being reached. Conference will be resumed tomorrow morning. No statements were forthcoming except that there was reason for optimism.

THE START OF THE OCEAN FLIGHT BY U. S. NAVY PLANES

U. S. seaplanes leaving beach at Rockaway, L. I. Insert shows N. C. 4 flying over the sea, photographed from another plane.

This picture depicts one of the most historic events in the nation's history—the start of the attempt of U. S. planes to fly across the Atlantic ocean. It shows the three navy-Curtiss planes N. C. 1, 2 and 4 just after leaving the beach at Rockaway, L. I., where they were completed and tested. The N. C. 3 is in the lead in the center. The

N. C. 4, which was forced to descend at Chatham, Mass., because of engine trouble, is on the left, and the N. C. 1 on the right of the picture.

Balloons Off In Free-For-All Race

AKRON, O., May 12.—A message received today from one of the pilots entered in the navy free balloon race which started here yesterday, says his balloon is passing over Pennsylvania and may reach the sea coast by noon.

The message was dropped near Lancaster, Pa., at 7 o'clock this morning, from the chamber of commerce entry. It reads:

"The balloon, chamber of commerce, passed over here 9 a. m. All going fine. Expect to reach coast by noon."

No word had been received from any other of the seven entries at 9 a. m.

PARIS, May 12.—A triumphal march of the allied armies thru Paris will take place June 6, according to present understanding.

PARIS.—Six members of German peace mission leave Versailles for Berlin.

IRON MOLDERS ON A STRIKE

CINCINNATI, O., May 12.—Approximately six hundred iron molders, 400 in Cincinnati and 200 in Covington, Kentucky, did not return to their places of employment today, following the failure of employers and officials of the International Molders' Union to agree after negotiations pending since January 1. The strike will probably affect the molders, patternmakers and employees in similar lines, according to President Joseph F. Valentine of the union.

"The action is taken in a friendly spirit," said Valentine. He explained that the molders are demanding a reduction of their working day to eight hours, but at the rate of pay for nine hours. There would be a half hour reduction at once under the terms the men are asking and another half hour reduction on July 1.

DEMAND PAPER MAKERS ABIDE BY DECISION

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—The war labor board prepared a telegram today to the officers of the International Association of Mill, Paper and Sulphite Workers, demanding that the union abide by the board's award which is effective until the end of the war. This action resulted from a strike of employees of the International Paper Company, at Glens Falls, N. Y., who demand increased wages.

Wilson Denies Americans Are Dollar Worshippers

PARIS, Saturday, May 10.—President Wilson, in his address today to the French Academy of Moral and Political Sciences, entered a strong disclaimer of the idea that the American people were largely materialists or dollar worshippers.

"I have had in recent months one very deep sense of privilege," the president said. "I have been keenly aware that there have been times when the people of Europe have not understood the people of the United States. We have been too often supposed to have been devoted chiefly, if not entirely, to material enterprises. We have been supposed, in the common phrase, to worship the almighty dollar."

"We have accumulated wealth, sir, we have devoted ourselves to material enterprises with extraordinary success, but there has underlain all of that all the time, a common sense of humanity and a common sympathy with the high principles of justice which has never grown dim in the field even of enterprise; and it has been my very great joy in these recent months to experience gained in the flight from Halifax, when the N.C. 3, flagship of the division, was delayed in her start and then forced to return to port after cruising 50 miles because of propeller trouble.

The planes have been fitted with belts for the mechanics so that minor repairs could be made in mid-air. There are many icebergs in the ocean field immediately ahead of the flyers. On the flight here from Halifax, Commander Towers said, they were numerous that the sea in places looked out from his vantage point like a page dotted with grazing sheep.

PLANE CREWS INCREASED TO SIX MEN

TREASSEY, N. Y., May 12.—The American navy's hydroplane will set out on their trans-Atlantic flight carrying a possible crew of six men instead of five as originally planned, and with three extra propellers aboard. Commander John H. Towers, chief of the expedition, announced today in a statement detailing the precautionary measures adopted to insure as far as possible, completion of the projected non-stop cruise to the Azores.

The extra men and spare parts, together with a maximum supply of petrol, would bring the weight of each plane to 28,000 pounds, the commander said, which might prove more than the 1,600 horse power engines could lift from the water. In this event, he added, the craft after a short cruise in the harbor would "turn back to the mother ship, discharging and drain off the excess fuel, reducing the weight to 28,000 pounds, the official full load.

The motors of the N.C. 1 and N.C. 2 easily carried 25,000 pounds from Rockaway Point, N. Y., to Halifax, and thence to this point.

The proposed enlargement of the crews and equipment were the result Commander Towers stated, of the ex-

SKYWARD FLIGHT IN CORN PRICES

CHICAGO, May 12.—Sensational new skyward flights by prices in the corn market resulted today from meagerness of readily available supplies and from prospects of further wet weather due to planting corn for spot delivery and to fill May contracts won to the highest prices so far on the present crop, May soaring to $1.77 after midday, an overnight rise of eight cents a bushel.

SUPPORT OF STRIKE IS LACKING

COLUMBUS, O., May 12.—Although officials of the Columbus trade council announced yesterday that practically all building in Columbus would be suspended today by a strike of union workmen, members of the trades council, who, it is said, seek recognition of the closed shop and the universal card evidence of a strike in the building trades were lacking today, according to contractors and George F. Mooney, secretary of the Columbus Employers' Association.

A few men, principally bricklayers, elevator construction men and masons, are out, said Mooney, and have been for some time. No accurate information relative to the number of men affected or prospects of future trouble could be secured today because of lack of information from union leaders.

"Columbus is an open shop town," said Mooney, "and the majority of the men in the industries and trades are non-union. About 150 of the 7,000 workers in the building trades industries belong to unions. Very small percentage of the bricklayers, carpenters and painters are unionized."

Secretary Mooney said that a canvasse of all the trades of any consequence and size shows that none of the men are off the job.

German Notes On Labor And Reparation Turned Over To Expert Commissions

BERLIN, Sunday, May 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Germany has seized and unfurled a new banner on which are inscribed President Wilson's fourteen points, which the president apparently has deserted, said Friedrich Ebert, the German president, in a statement to the Associated Press today.

President Ebert called the peace treaty a "monstrous document". He declared that history holds no precedent for such determination to annihilate completely vanquished peoples.

MANUFACTURED SENTIMENT AGAINST PEACE TREATY

BRIGNE, May 11.—(French wireless service)—Press comment and other news concerning the peace treaty as seen here by the German semi-official news agency, suggest that a campaign has been started to incite German public opinion against acceptance of the treaty, or perhaps to give Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau manufactured popular support in demands he may make for alleviation of the peace terms. The closing of the stock exchanges in Berlin, Frankfurt and elsewhere and the government appeal for "a week of mourning", is taken here to indicate that there is a well coordinated movement to influence the German people. Private telegrams say that all the German newspapers are discussing the financial and economical clauses to be imposed, advise against acceptance. In various political circles it is apparent from the telegrams that German leaders were pleased with the speech of Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau last Wednesday, particularly with the passages relating to Russian mobilization, the delay in preparing the peace treaty and the prolongation of the blockade.

The Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, expresses the belief that as a result of the handling over of German counter propositions, the treaty may be altered.

PARIS, May 12.—(4:04 p. m.)—The council of four at its meeting today decided to refer the German notes on labor and war prisoners to experts for consideration instead of answering them at once as it did with the first two communications from the German delegation.

KOREANS WANT FREEDOM PARIS, May 12.—A petition from the Korean people and nation asking for liberation from Japan, was submitted to the peace conference by Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German mission, as distinctly of a propagandist order. This is the one advancing a counter project as to international labor regulation which the French argue is intended to convince the Socialists and the laboring classes of the allied countries in general that the present German government is working in their favor.

FRANK OPINION AS REFLECTED IN THE NEWSPAPERS regards one of the notes sent to Premier Clemenceau as president of the peace conference, by Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German mission, as distinctly of a propagandist order. This is the one advancing a counter project as to international labor regulation which the French argue is intended to convince the Socialists and the laboring classes of the allied countries in general that the present German government is working in their favor.

The government forces at Welsm me, the minister of defense, was asked to send government troops to restore order and has agreed to do so. The Thuringian workers' council at Erfurt, however, has threatened to bring about a general strike if the troops come into the district and it those now there are not removed.

The government forces at Welsm

me have been transferred to Leipzig, where the Spartacists are threatening an uprising on behalf of a council government.

DISCONTENT GROWS AMONG THE ITALIANS

ROME, May 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The discontent and irritation of the people are again growing because of news from Paris that Italy is not likely to get what she claims on the eastern shore of the Adriatic. The Messenger says:

"President Wilson is obstinately adhering to his views regarding Fiume, showing that he has not changed his mind."

Other reasons for dissatisfaction are the Anglo-French-American alliance, from which Italy was excluded; the asserted project that the former American merchant marine will be divided among the allies, although it is held entirely to Italian lines; the clause in the treaty with Germany saying the three principal powers were sufficient to ratify the treaty, that is, it is alleged, again excluding Italy, and the reported seizure to place Ethiopia under the protection of France. All the newspapers of Rome publish adverse comments on these subjects.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 12.—The success of the lottery loan afforded the basis for a further advance of prices at the opening of today's stock market, although gains were extremely moderate in comparison to last week's sensational movements. Copper, motors and low priced oils rose in average of a point. Industrial Alcohol gained two and American Tobacco three. A nine point readjust in Texas Company, the recent market favorite, suggested renewed selling of some of the more speculative issues.

The character of the trading underwent a sharp change during the extremely active afternoon. Oils, ship-pings and rails gave way generally to stocks, copper and related metals, notably silver, plumb. U. S. Steel, American Smelting and U. S. Smelting were the striking features, the latter gaining 5½ points. Motors and affiliated stocks also strengthened, but equities fared only moderately. Texas Company recovered half of its loss, but reacted again as shipping were irregular on the newsflows of Atlantic Gulf. Liberty bonds were firm, all show priced rails and local fractures, foreign issues showing no material change.

Steels, copper and equipments were the central feature of today's stock market. Oils, shipings and motors displaying less activity and occasional irregularities. Sales approximated 1,200, 000 shares.

The closing was irregular.

DR. CHADWICK AND 2 DAUGHTERS KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Rev. Ferine L. Duncan, Officere street, and family have gone to Lancaster where Rev. Duncan was called to preach the funeral service of a former friend, Dr. W. E. Chadwick and two daughters who were killed in an automobile accident at Winchester, Jackson county, Saturday. Dr. Chadwick was well known in Jackson, his former home, where he leaves a number of relatives. He formerly practiced dentistry there, but had been located in Lancaster for some time.

Dr. Chadwick and his wife and two daughters who were killed in an automobile accident at Winchester, Jackson county, Saturday. Dr. Chadwick and his elder daughter, Loralee, were instantly killed. Mrs. Chadwick and the younger daughter, Helen, were seriously injured. Miss Helen later died from the injuries. Fortunately the baby had been left at home.

Rev. Duncan was an intimate friend of the late Dr. Chadwick.

Doctor Asked What Medicine Boy Had Taken

"Nothing But Nerv-Worth," Answered the Lady's Happy Mother

Some time ago Mrs. Elizabeth Nance of Huntington told the Nerv-Worth man that her little son, who had terrible attacks of nervousness for two years, was so much better that now the attacks did not average more than one a month.

"I give all the credit to Nerv-Worth," she declared, repeating the doctor's question and her answer. No wonder the doctor was curious. The boy was going to school and was almost well.

This is what Mrs. Nance said about her son and how he is:

"My boy, 11 years old, was afflicted with nervousness. For two years he had convulsions as high as three to six in a night. We called several doctors, but we really could not find out what the trouble was. He was so nervous he could hardly speak. Would jerk and startle in his sleep. We concluded to try Nerv-Worth and following was the result:

"After two bottles he began to get better. Getting better right along. Taking on flesh. I am satisfied Nerv-Worth is going to CURE MY BOY."

"ELIZABETH NANCE."

One dollar back at The Fisher & Stretch Pharmacy, Portsmouth. If Nerv-Worth does not benefit you, The Jockey Pharmacy sells Nerv-Worth at Oak Hill.

Businesses will be Mrs. F. W. Sturdivant, Mrs. O. D. Morgan, Mrs. Charles Brockman, Mrs. B. A. Lechner, Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Charles Ray.

This being the last meeting before the convention, it ought to be well attended.

EBERT CALLS PEACE TREATY MONSTROUS

German foreign minister and chief of the German peace delegation, in addressing a note to Premier Clemenceau relative to the repatriation of prisoners, asks that the details of the transfer be entrusted to commissions.

The German foreign minister states that the German peace delegation has noted with satisfaction that the draft of the treaty recognizes in principle the repatriation of German war and civilian prisoners with great expedition and says that special commissions might carry on direct oral discussions which would include all belligerent states, it being pointed out that even during hostilities this has proved a most effective way of solving difficulties.

The note says that this work should be much easier now that the war is over and would remove differences of conception or lack of clearness of particular points, such as legal conception in individual countries. The German delegation considers it indispensable that those war and civilian prisoners detained are undergoing punishment for other than disciplinary offense, should in principle be included among those to be unconditionally repatriated.

AGREES ON ONE THEORY

Regarding war and civilian prisoners of allied and associated powers in its hands, the note says:

"Germany has recognized the same principles. It appears self-evident to the German delegation therefore that, on grounds of fairness certain alterations in the treatment of prisoners should be agreed upon pending their return."

The note then proceeds:

"In a one-sided manner, some feel the stipulations have been made in favor of the allied and associated governments. For instance, those regarding the surrender of personal property, the search for missing objects and the care of graves might be cited. It is assumed that the demand for complete reciprocity is founded on general human rights."

The note then refers to a number of minor points and proposes that deliberations by commissions should be begun speedily to clear up preliminaries in readiness for the time when shipping and similar difficulties may be solved and the removal of the prisoners may be possible. It alludes to the importance to Germany that the prisoners return home under orderly conditions, insuring their reinstatement into economic life with the greatest possible dispatch and says, that this seems only possible if everything is done to "raise the moral and physical state of those returning."

WANT ALLIED HELP

Since Germany's economic position prevents her by her own strength from providing the requisite guarantees, the delegation suggests that the deliberations of the commission might extend to the question of how far it would be possible on the part of the allied and associated governments to help Germany in the matter and for example in return for the repayment of the cost to provide prisoners with new outfits, underclothing, civilian suits and boots before their return.

The note concludes:

"Accept Mr. President, the expression of my most particular esteem."

In his note dealing with labor sections Count Von Brockdorff-Baerens says that the German government agrees with the allied and associated governments that the greatest attention must be paid to these problems.

International peace and human progress depend on how questions are handled, the note says. The demands for social justice repeatedly drawn up in this connection by workers of all lands only partly find endorsement in principle in this section of the allied governments' draft of the peace terms. These high demands have been for the most part already carried out in an admirably exemplary fashion in the German empire."

Referring to the draft of an agreement on international labor compiled by the German government and proposed by the German League of Nations, the note says:

OH, YES, THIS IS IMPORTANT

"In order, in the interest of all of humanity, to put these principles everywhere into practice, the acceptance of the German delegation's proposal is certainly requisite. We consider it necessary that all states should join in this agreement, even if they do not belong to the League of Nations."

"In order to insure the workers for whom these proposed improvements are destined and to operate in shaping these principles, the German delegation considers it necessary to call representatives of the national organizations of the labor unions of all those contracting parties to a conference at Versailles, even during peace negotiations, to deliberate and make decisions on international labor laws. It considers it would be advantageous that the proceedings of this conference be based on decisions reached at the international trade union conference held at Berne from February 5 to February 9, 1919. We append a copy of these decisions which have been accepted by the representative of trade union organizations in Bohemia, Bulgaria, Denmark, Germany, Great Britain, France, Greece, Holland, Italy, Canada, Norway, Austria, Sweden, Switzerland, Spain and Hungary. We have been charged to do this by the union of Germany."

ANNIHILATION

PARIS—Prince Eichmann, former German ambassador to England, reported as saying in interview, if peace terms are signed, "we would be quite silent to the annihilation of Germany."

Have Ever Seen

There's no use talking, Friday and Saturday showed us the greatest and swiftest selling of women's underwear we ever saw in our lives. My, how the vests and union suits did fly. But, hold, there's no wonder. Our New York office told us it was offered these great mill-clear-outs of high grade, strictly first, garment at such prices that we couldn't wait on the trade, and, air, it was the fact. Women just naturally waited on themselves and willingly waited for a saleswoman to get time to wrap them for her. Here are the ringleaders. Look them over.

AFTER SUFFERING A WHOLE YEAR

Mr. King Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

John, Kansas.—"I was a constant sufferer from female trouble for about a year. I had pains in back and stomach, in fact all over me, and was all rundown.

A friend of mine was cured of the same trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and it gave me health and strength and made a new woman of me.

I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound highly, and you may publish my testimonial as it may be to the means of helping some other suffering woman."—Mr. J. P. King, 165 West Campbell Street, Topeka, Kansas.

The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory, many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills.

Every able woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, ready to bring you health and may save your life.

IRONTON, May 12.—One of the big spring athletic events will be the Ashland and Irionton Track meet which will be held at Ashland on Saturday, May 24. This is the first thing of this kind that has ever been held in this section, and it will doubtless be the center of attraction in the athletic calendar.

The local High School men are fast rounding late shape, but have been much handicapped in their training during the last few weeks by the weather. Coach Sloan has not yet picked the men who will represent Irionton.

Spiders Are Defeated

The Rosemount Road Stars won from the Spiders Sunday on the former's diamond, by the score of 4 to 2. The game was a pitcher's battle, the Stars getting eight hits and the Spiders only four.

Game Is Called Off

The game between the Steel Plant and Shamrocks scheduled for Millbrook Park Sunday was called off on account of the cool weather and wet grounds.

Back From The Races

Dr. Joseph Lake has returned from Louisville and Lexington, where he saw the jumpers go. He says the Lexington meet was one of the greatest ever held in that city.

Collis Has Appendicitis

John Collis, catcher for the Rosemount Road Stars, was unable to play Sunday on account of being ill with appendicitis. His home is on Scioto Trail. Harry Collis, who is working at Pedro, was home Sunday, and worked behind the bat in the place of his brother.

Victors Defeated

The Portsmouth Victors, managed by Earl Reeg, were given a beating at the hands of the village nine at Lucasville, Sunday afternoon, the game ending with the score 13 to 7, in favor of Lucasville. Lucasville has a strong nine this season and is ready to meet all comers. They have a fine diamond on the Morgan field back of the Purdy mill.

THE QUESTION OF TURKEY

THE Austrian delegates are on the way to Paris to have the fate of their country read to them by the peace conference of the victorious allies. We have little concern as to the judgment that will be meted out to her. She won no admiration in war and as the vanquished she has proven herself contemptible. Her part was ever playing second fiddle to Germany and a disgusting one at that. No power of resistance, much less of aggression seemed to be left in her and only as the mean and cowardly criminal is the verdict to be read to her.

Next will come up for disposal the case of Turkey and there we confess to a keen interest as to her fate. Even more of an aggravation than a menace, she was still the blackest blot on the European map and a constant provocative to the world's peace. It may not altogether solve the danger of her presence by eliminating it, because all the Balkan governments look upon Constantinople with a covetous eye and they are fierce and ungovernable temperaments, likely to flounce into fighting passion at any time, but the cause of decency and self-respect would be served by totally ending the dominion of the unscrupulous and impossible Turk in any part of Europe. Mohammed's cult will never fuse with western civilization and should not be permitted, now that just and proper occasion has come, to come in immediate contact, which in her case is conflict, with it.

Not altogether favorably do we look upon the proposal to make the United States a mandatory over Constantinople. That is, however, more of feeling than judgment, because of slowness to accept the verdict of causes and arms that wrenched America so violently and so far from the old doctrine that her mission of government is solely at home. Undeniably circumstances of which we had no wish and equally certain, no control, have made us a veritable world power. We have become involuntarily involved in the affairs of the whole world and whether it be pleasant or unpleasant, willingly or unwillingly we must address ourselves to well and bravely meeting a new situation and the new obligations of responsibility and duty it imposes. In our Americanism we would not for a moment hesitate in the admission and even the assertion, that, setting aside this reluctance to enter new and untried fields, it would be best for America, in the world view, to be charged with the keeping of Constantinople. That we have talent for dealing with the weaker races, that we will treat them fairly, etc., generously, is shown in the experience of the Philippines. Thus it would be better for the European Turk to have us his kindly master, shouldn't we say boss, and it will be better for the world, because justice and fairness are surely ever best, and our strength would keep down these rivalries and jealousies that would inevitably arise with any other government in control.

SHE IS HAPPILY SATISFIED

It is rather surprising with what unanimity of approval the peace terms are received. Such opinion as has been expressed by papers and politicians is one of unqualified satisfaction. Here and there a newspaper is withholding any comment and that bunch of senators, who seem bent on making only a hateful opposition are silent beyond saying they are "studying the document before reaching a conclusion," which means no more than they are merely gathering both breath and courage to find fault with and, likely, prefer for opposition.

In the whole matter, however, there is nothing so pleasing as the attitude of France towards the stipulation decreed for her ancient and arch enemy. If she even murmured or complained, as to possible terms, this is all swept away now in her joyous acceptance. That makes all the rest of the world glad because its sympathies through the giant struggle were most intensely centered about her. She suffered not only most, but incomparably and here should be the highest gratification and joy.

THE MISTAKE THAT WAS MADE

HERE Germany was weakest in her vast enterprise was a fatal weakness in her exaltation of the physical above the moral. Her rule of conduct was to get the data and then work out the conclusion by the figures. She was unable to understand there might be in any situation something more vital than the raw facts.

She shows this in her estimate of the military prowess of the United States. In the first place she thought we wouldn't fight because we were so eager to make money, it never entering her mind that our superior passion was not money itself, rather the power of money. In other words we wanted to spend it and not hoard it up, wanted the things it would buy and not to deprive ourselves of everything in order to safeguard against the rainy day. Gathering with infinite detail all the circumstances of the operations of our various forces at the front, she gathered mountains of facts and figures and reached wrong conclusions from them. She found that some divisions fought better than others and this was because some were from city and some from country, some from the east and some from the west. At the head of all she puts the Rainbows and the Marines. True enough the former were all from the west, but it is equally true most of the latter, especially the bunch that first turned the Kaiser's oncoming hosts back, were from the Atlantic coast cities. She overlooked the main fact that the Rainbows were selected because they were the class in the militia organization of the middle-east states. Being chosen for their special adaptability for fighting service it was a moral certainty they would show themselves the superior fighters, especially in the first tests. Above all Germany shut her mind against the existence of any such things as an ideal and she was unable to perceive that was the main thing the American soldier was fighting. Perhaps, he, in the main did not grasp altogether that himself, but back home folks were the folks worth fighting for, the folks that had preserved to him an equal chance, maintained the liberty and the independence of the individual that made real men and women. He wasn't impelled by any desire to take anything, except the life of his enemy, and to keep his own from being taken from him, to be a real man himself he just had to stand up and kick the other fellow.

THE WISHING PLANE
BY WILLIS WINTER

The wind was blowing hard when Captain Brave and Jack, in the air plane, flew away from the submarine, leaving Ladydear and Jane with Captain Bold and his crew.

Not long after Captain Brave was going to Dr. Chee's house on Devil's Island, and Captain Bold and all the folks on the submarine were going there, too.

It wasn't very many minutes until a most terrible storm came up. Ladydear and Jane, and even the men folks had to go down inside the submarine, and the door was closed on top of them.

The big waves bounced the submarine around until Jane fell just like she did when Jack swung her hard in the hammock at home. She would have been dreadfully afraid if Ladydear hadn't kept smiling at her.

They tossed around for hours and hours. Jack got tired of trying to stand on his feet on the floor of the submarine and finally jumped up on one of the bunks and lay down and just let the submarine roll him all over.

All of a sudden there was a terrible bump and the submarine stopped, just like an automobile would if it bumped into a tree.

Ladydear and Jane were thrown right out of the chair, for Jane had been sitting on Ladydear's lap, and poor Bold rolled clear out of bed and landed with a thump on the floor. This was too much for Bold. He got up, sat on his hind legs and said, "As for Jack and Captain Brave, we will have to wait until tomorrow.

Ladydear was really frightened this time, but just then Captain Bold,

WHO'S WHO
IN THE DAY'S NEWS

GEN. NICHOLAS LOHIVITSKY
Among the passengers on the Regia Italia, which arrived in the U. S. recently, bringing casual American troops from Marseilles, was commander-in-chief of the Russian army in France, who is on the way to Vladivostok.

Since 1916 Gen. Lohivitsky has a made his headquarters in Paris but prior to that he commanded a Russian corps consisting of twenty-one regiments of infantry and nine of cavalry on the eastern Prussian front. The general is traveling in civilian clothes, and the nature of his mission is not explained. He hears, however, papers signed by Marshal Foch, and across one of them is written in English, "Absolutely Opposed to Bolshevism."

Through the park with R. Rohm, the artist, who is to leave the city for Philadelphia soon which distresses me greatly. And so home and to bed.

The stage struck girl may get some good advice from Miss Harriett, who has not been on Broadway long but is already a feature in "Please Get Married." Like the good sister in Grimm's fairy tale, from whose lips dropped diamonds and pearls, so from the lips of Miss Harriett dropped these words of clear wisdom:

"Girls who want to go on the stage should have a good home or an income. The first two years of stage salary do not yield enough to pay even for clothes." Young girls hear too much about high salary on the stage. Of course, there are big salaries but very few get living expenses until they make good. Consequently a bank-roll is an essential if success is achieved.

There was an obscure young chorus girl who leaped into the spotlight three years ago. She became the vogue. Hats were named after her and was a pleasure resort catering to the young bloods of the town. A very rich man, as the report goes, wanted her for his in an exclusive French restaurant. There was plenty of wine and she imbibed too much. She did several things that cracked the Bowery concert halls. The young man called his car and took her home. He never saw her after that. And the young beauty immediately dropped out of the limelight. She is a show girl again.

There is a millionaire over in Brooklyn who drives to a $350 a day job every day to his bungalow with a chauffeur at the wheel. Rhumatism and gout made his life a burden that even his wealth could not lighten. Doctors could not give him relief. One day he read that park laborers were in demand. A few of the newspapermen got wind of the story and talked to the millionaire but he was so sincere in his pleading not to mention his name that his wishes were respected. He says he feels better and that he is going to stay on the job for a year.

At Camp Sherman

Arthur Windle, a Portsmouth soldier, who spent 16 months overseas as a bugler with the 20th Headquarters Company, was in the city over Sunday on leave from Camp Sherman. He returned to camp this morning but expects to be mustered out during the week.

The women of this Peerless town

Rise early—"As the morn is fair",

Drag out the rings, stir up the dust,

And—"It's raining, I declare."

Yet, May you're all right at that

With blossoms like the lasties fair,

Who doll up in their crepe de chines,

Summer furs and puffy hair,

The month of gardens, whooping

Agony galore, dull days of school,

Kids' sullen legs, and mousing rats,

But best of all my birthday comes

The very first of May;

It is correct for a gentleman to seek a mutual friend, or an acquaintance, for an introduction to a lady, and it is the accepted rule to do so when a gentleman desires to be introduced to a particular lady. Gentlemen, however, do not ask to be introduced to each other, unless some special reason exists for so doing. The reason must be one that commends itself to the person whose acquaintance is desired as well as to the person making the introduction; otherwise such a wish would appear to be overbearing or fawning. In such case the request might meet with refusal and the proposed acquaintanceship be declined.

PROPAGANDA SEEN BEHIND NEW GERMAN NOTES ON PEACE TREATY

BERLIN WANTS TO HAGGLE AND PARLEY

TO REPLY TO NOTES

PARIS, May 12.—The council of four of the peace conference met this morning and took up consideration of the notes to be made in the latest German notes—those regarding labor matters and prisoners of war.

ITALIAN PROBLEM UP

PARIS, May 12.—Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister, held a conference today with Colonel E. M. House, of the American peace delegation. The conference went over the Italian situation with a view to reaching a basis of agreement before the Austrians arrive. The conference took place at a luncheon at which Colonel House was the Italian diplomat.

GERMANS WANT TO ARGUE

By The Associated Press
The peace conference leaders have passed their effort to reach an understanding on the Italian question, in view of the insistence of the terms of the Austrian peace delegation to France. Consultations were begun today between Foreign Minister Sonnino of Italy, and Colonel E. M. House, of the American delegation.

Meanwhile attempts are being made by the German delegation at Versailles to draw the representatives of the allied and associated governments into oral discussions on phases of the peace treaty presented to the Germans last Wednesday.

AGREES ON ONE THEORY

Franklin opinion as reflected in the newspapers regards one of the notes sent to Premier Clemenceau as presented by the peace conference, by Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German delegation, as distinctly of a propagandist order. This is the note advancing a counter project as to international labor legislation which the French argue is intended to convince the Socialists and the laboring classes of the allied countries in general that the present German government is working in their favor.

FRAMING REPLY

The German cabinet council, meeting yesterday, the search for missing objects regarding the surrender of personal property.

"Germany has recognized the same principles. It appears self-evident to the German delegation therefore that of the German mission, as distinctly of a propagandist order. This is the note advancing a counter project as to international labor legislation which the French argue is intended to convince the Socialists and the laboring classes of the allied countries in general that the present German government is working in their favor.

The note then proceeds:

"In a concession manner, some feel that the allied countries in general that the present German government is working in their favor.

The note then refers to a number of minor points and proposes that deliberations by commissions should be begun specifically to clear up preliminary inquiries in readiness for the time when shipping and similar difficulties may be solved and the removal of the prisoners may be possible. It alludes to the importance to Germany that the prisoners return home under orderly conditions, insuring their rehabilitation into economic life with the greatest possible dispatch and says that this seems only possible if everything is done to "raise the moral and physical state of those returning."

WANT ALLIED HELP

Since Germany's economic position prevents her by her own strength from providing the requisite guarantees, the delegation suggests that the deliberations of the commission might extend to the question of how far it would be possible on the part of the allied and associated governments to help Germany in the matter and for example in return for the repayment of the cost to provide prisoners with their wants, interlocking, trifling wants and tools before their return.

The note concludes:

"Accept Mr. President, the expression of my most particular esteem."

In his note dealing with labor sections Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau says that the German government agrees with the allied and associated governments that the greatest attention must be paid to these problems. International peace and human progress depend on how questions are handled, the note says. The demands for social justice repeatedly drawn up in this connection by workers of all kinds only partly and endorsement in principle in this section of the allied governments' draft of the peace terms. These high demands have been for the most part already carried out in an almost exemplary fashion in the German empire.

Allied forces are reported in a dispatch originating at Helsinki, Finland, to be preparing for an attack on Petrograd. It is said that 50,000 men will be engaged in the operation and that French divisions are being brought to the front.

Disputes from Rome declare that the Italian people are disengaged and irritated by the delay of the council of four in reaching a decision on the question of Flaminio.

Referring to the draft of an agreement on international labor compiled by the German government and proposed by the German League of Nations, the note says:

OH, YES, THERE'S IMPORTANT

FAVORS COMMISSIONS

Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, German foreign minister and chief of the German peace delegation, in addressing a note to Premier Clemenceau relative to the repatriation of prisoners, asks that the details of the transfer be entrusted to commissions.

The German foreign minister states that the German peace delegation has noted with satisfaction that the draft of the treaty recognizes in principle the repatriation of German war and prisoners.

In order to insure the workers for whom these proposed improvements are destined and cooperation in shaping these principles, the German delegation considers it necessary to nominate representatives of the national organizations of the labor unions of all these contracting parties to a conference at Versailles, even during peace negotiations, to deliberate and make decisions on international labor relations.

THE QUESTION OF TURKEY

THE Austrian delegates are on the way to Paris to have the fate of their country read to them by the peace conference of the victorious allies. We have little concern as to the judgment that will be meted out to her. She was no admirer in war and as the vanquished she has proven herself contemptible. Her part was ever playing second fiddle to Germany and a disgusting one at that. No power of resistance, much less of aggression seemed to be left in her and only as the mean and cowardly criminal is the verdict to be read to her.

Next will come up for disposal the case of Turkey and there we confess to a keen interest as to her fate. Ever more of an aggression than a menace, she was still the bluestock of the European map and a constant provocation to the world's peace. It may not altogether solve the danger of her presence by eliminating it, because all the Balkan governments look upon Constantinople with a covetous eye and they are fierce and unquenchable temperaments, likely to flame into fighting passion at any time, but the cause of decency and self-respect would be served by totally ending the dominion of the unspeakable and impossible Turk in any part of Europe. Mohammed's cult will never fuse with western civilization and should not be permitted, now that just and proper occasion has come, to come in immediate contact, which in her nature is conflict, with it.

Not altogether favorably do we look upon the proposal to make the United States a mandatory over Constantinople. That is, however, more of feeling than judgment, because of slowness to accept the verdict of causes and arms that wracked America so violently and so far from the old doctrine that her mission of government is solely at home. Undeniably circumstances of which we had no wish and equally certain, no control, has made us a veritable world power. We have become involuntarily involved in the affairs of the whole world and whether it is pleasant or unpleasant, willingly or unwillingly we must address ourselves to well and bravely meeting new situation and the new obligations of responsibility and duty it imposes. In our Americanism we would not for a moment hesitate in the admission and even the assertion, that, setting aside this reluctance to enter new and untried fields, it would be best for America, in the world view, to be charged with the keeping of Constantinople. That we have talent for dealing with the weaker races, that we will treat them fairly, even generously, is shown in the experience of the Philippines. Thus it would be better for the European Turk to have us his kindly master, shouldn't we say boss, and it will be better for the world, because justice and fairness are surely ever best, and our strength will keep down those rivalries and jealousies that would inevitably arise with any other government in control.

IT is rather surprising with what unanimity of approval the peace terms are received. Such opinion as has been expressed by papers and politicians is one of unqualified satisfaction. Here and there a newspaper is withholding any comment and that bunch of senators, who seem bent on making only a hateful opposition are silent beyond saying they are "studying the document before reaching a conclusion," which means no more than they are merely gathering both breath and courage to find fault with and, likely, pretext for opposition.

In the whole matter, however, there is nothing so pleasing as the attitude of France towards the stipulation decreed for her ancient and arch enemy. If she even murmured or complained, as possible terms, this is all swept away now in her joyous acceptance. That makes all the rest of the world glad because its sympathies through the great struggle were most intensely centered about her. She suffered not only most, but incomparably and here should be the highest gratification and joy.

THE MISTAKE THAT WAS MADE

HERE Germany was weakest in her vast enterprise was a fatal weakness in her exaltation of the physical above the moral. Her rule of conduct was to get the data and then work out the conclusion by the figures. She was unable to understand there might be in any situation something more vital than the raw facts.

She shows this in her estimate of the military prowess of the United States. In the first place she thought we wouldn't fight because we were so eager to make money, never entering her mind that our superior passion was not money itself, rather the power of money. In other words we wanted to spend it and not hoard it up, wanted the things it would buy and not to deprive ourselves of everything in order to safeguard against the rainy day. In gathering with infinite detail all the circumstances of the operations of our various forces at the front, she gathered mountainous heaps of facts and figures and reached wrongful conclusions from them. She found that some divisions fought better than others and this was because some were from city and some from country, some from the east and some from the west. At the head of all she puts the Rainbows and the Marines. True enough the former were all from the west, but it is equally true most of the latter, especially the bunch that first turned the Kaiser's oncoming hosts back, were from the Atlantic coast cities. She overlooked the main fact that the Rainbows were selected because they were the class in the militia organization of the middle-east states. Being chosen for their special adaptability for fighting service it was a moral certainty they would show themselves the superior fighters, especially in the first tests. Above all Germany shut her mind against the existence of any such things as an ideal and she was unable to perceive that was the main thing the American soldier was fighting. Perhaps, he, in the main did not grasp altogether that himself, but back home folks were the folks worth fighting for, the folks that had preserved to him an equal chance, maintained the liberty and the independence of the individual that made real men and women. He wasn't impelled by any desire to take anything, except the life of his enemy, and to keep his own from being taken from him, to be a real man himself he just had to stand up and kick the other fellow.

THE WISHING PLANE

BY WILLIS WINTER

The wind was blowing hard when who had gone up to the deck of the Captain Brave and Jack, in the submarine, came back and told them leaving Ladydear and Jane with Captain Bold and his crew.

You remember Captain Brave was going to Dr. Chee's house on Beautiful Island, and Captain Bold and all the folks on the submarine were going ashore.

It wasn't very many minutes until, never seen it before. I don't even know if there are any people on it or dear and Jane, and even the man not, but we shall find out pretty folk had to go down inside the submarine.

By and by the wind went down, and out popped the sun and out popped Ladydear and Jane, and the rest of the folks on the submarine, too.

The first thing they did, of course, was to look out over the ocean as far as they could see for Captain Brave

Ladydear hadn't kept sailing at her.

They tossed around for hours and hours.

Booth got tired of trying to stand on his feet on the floor of the submarine and finally jumped up on one of the bunks and lay down and just let the submarine roll him all over.

All of a sudden there was a terrible thump and the submarine stopped, just like an automobile would if it bumped into a tree.

Ladydear and Jane were thrown right out of the chair, for Jane had been sitting on Captain's lap, and poor Booth rolled clear out of bed and landed with a thump on the floor.

This was too much for Booth. He got up, sat on his hind legs and howled.

Ladydear was really frightened

this time, but just then Captain told

GEN. NICHOLAS LOHITSKY
One of the passengers on the Regia d'Italia, which arrived in the U. S. recently. Infra-red, general American troops from Mareilles, was commander in chief of the Russian army in France, who is on the way to Vladivostok.

Since 1916 Gen. Lohitsky has made his headquarters in Paris, but prior to that he commanded a Russian corps consisting of twenty-one regiments of infantry and nine of cavalry on the eastern Prussian front. The general is traveling in civilian clothes, and the nature of his mission is not explained. He bears, however, papers signed by Marshal Foch, and one of them is written in English, "Absolutely Opposed to Bolshevism."

through the park with R. Rohm, the artist, who is to leave the city for Philadelphia soon with distresses me greatly. And so home and to bed.

The stage struck girl may get some good advice from Eddie Bartlett, who has not been on Broadway long but is already a feature in "Please Get Married." Like the good sister in Grimm's fairy tale, from whose lips dropped diamonds and pearls, to from the lips of Miss Bartlett dropped these words of clear wisdom:

girls who want to go on the stage should have good looks or an income. The first two years of stage salary do not yield enough to pay for clothes. Young girls have too much about high salary on the stage. Of course, there are big salaries but very few get living expenses until they make good. Consequently a hand-roll is an essential if success is achieved.

There was an obscure young chorus girl who leaped into the spotlight three years ago. She became the vogue. Hats were made after her and so was a pleasure resort catering to the young ideals of the town. A very rich man, so the report goes, wanted to marry her. He gave her plints of pearls, sable coats and even a house in a quiet avenue. She was dazzled but she never shone any Broadway vulgarity. Her voice was well modulated. She dressed in the best of taste and very little rouge or powder was used. One night the rich man gave a party for her in an exclusive French restaurant. There was plenty of wine and she indulged too much. She did several things that shocked of the young society girls. The young man called his car and took her home. He never saw her after that. And the young beauty immediately dropped out of the limelight. She is a show girl again.

There is a millionaire over in Brooklyn who drives to a $250 a day job every day in his limousine with a chauffeur at the wheel. Rheumatism and sciatic made his life a burden that over his wealth could not lighten. Doctors could not give him relief. One day he read that park laborers were in demand. A few of the newspapermen got wind of the story and talked to the chauffeur but he was so sincere in his pleading not to mention his name that his wishes were respected. He says he feels better and that he is going to stay on the job for a year.

Yet, May you're all right at that

Angels Could Do No More

A party touring the southwest stopped one day to read the inscription on a stone marking the lonely grave of a cowboy. His friends had placed the supreme compliment of the west, the stone was marked, "Here lies Bill Jones, he did his duty, Angels could do no more."

So when we view our new Honor Flag, which we have just received, it says to us and to the passerby as plainly as if it bore the words, "Here are the people of Murray, they did their duty for the Victory Liberty, Leon, Angels could do no more."

Struck Another Match

A widower was deeply grieved when his wife passed away, and had settled on her tombstone:

"My light has gone out."

When he married again, he went to Bishop Potter and suggested that his marriage might seem to be at variance with the inscription. "Don't you think I had better have it taken off the stone?"

"No," answered the bishop, "I'd just put under it, 'I struck another match.'

Knew Her Business

"John," announced Mrs. Slyther, "I'm going to town tomorrow to see the new hats."

"You fool," her husband remitted her, "that tomorrow is Sunday. The shops will be closed."

The nurse had been taking temperatures in the receiving ward. When the doctor made his rounds a little later he entered into conversation with a dark patient. He said:

"Have you had any relief to eat?"

"Well, siah, a lady done chaw a piece of glass to eck her."

"Why, Tommy, what's the matter?"

"Pap-papa hit his finger with the hammar," sobbed Tommy.

"Well, you needn't cry about a thing like that," comforted his mother.

"Why didn't you laugh?"

"I did," sobbed Tommy, disconsolately.

"He took the size. How would you like to see your girl in this?" off of a swell dress."

Ohio Rising Slowly Here; Lowland Is Under Water

(BULLETIN)
At 10 o'clock this morning the following message was received from Weather Forecaster Devereaux of Cincinnati:

"Partly cloudy in upper Ohio tonight followed by showers today or Tuesday."

River at Portsmouth will rise to a crest of 40 feet unless heavy rains should occur.

The Ohio river continues to rise, but the rate of rise is rapidly slackening and it is not believed the river will rise very much more.

At 7 o'clock this morning the gauge showed a stage of 34 feet against a stage of 29.5 Sunday morning. Local River Observer F. B. Winter, stated this morning that the Ohio was rising about two inches an hour and the crest of the rise would pass this evening.

The Scioto river was reported falling at Lucasville this morning and will soon be on the decline here. It has overflowed its banks in many places and much of the low land is submerged. The Ohio has also reached much low land on the West Side and farmers in this section will have to do their plowing over.
